Site foreman at Far North Fabrications, Scott Taylor was thoroughly impressed with SchoolTech student, Mason Humphreys and the SchoolTech program, so much so his company offered Mason an apprenticeship placement when he graduated from Year 12 at SchoolTech.

“It was a great move for the business when we offered work experience to Mason when he was a SchoolTech student. Mason walked in the door full of enthusiasm and thanks to his SchoolTech training, was already equipped with some of the skills he would need on the job.

It didn't cost the business a cent and Mason fitted in so well. Now we have a really valued employee and apprentice who is so confident with the work that we've got him working on-site, dealing directly with clients.”
